

Long Term Health Care Planning

It's never too early to start the care conversation.

Long term health care planning may not be the easiest topic to discuss. However, it's vital that you plan for it before you need it.

Long term care for people with ongoing health conditions may require several personal care services. Failing to have a plan can have significant financial and health-related consequences.

Setting up a financial plan which would include the prospective costs for these services is essential to ensure that you or your loved ones are taken care of if necessary. In addition, the long term health care plan should also define the types of care you or your loved one might need.

Ask for our Long Term Care Conversation Planning Guide and start working with a financial advisor who can help ensure you've got a long term care plan helping you age your way, on your terms.

Have Questions? Contact Lucja (Lucy) Davson at 780-463-8101 or email wealth@kbh.ca.